

Terms and Conditions Open Source Backup Conference

Payment and cancellation

All payments are processed through the operator NETWAYS Event Services GmbH. Bookings for the conference may be cancelled, and attendees fees refunded, up to 30 days before the beginning of the event. The organizer will charge a cancellation fee of €75 + VAT for a conference attendee. After this cut-off date (applicable also to late bookings) a cancellation is no longer possible and attendee fees must be paid in full. Reservations may of course be transferred to another participant at any time.

Taxes

Open Source Backup Conference is primarily aimed at business attendees; therefore prices listed here excl. VAT (currently 19%). This applies both to EU and non-EU customers. In this case the conference is considered under German tax rules to be a service supplied AT the conference venue (i.e. Germany), and therefore attracts VAT at the 19% rate. This is treated differently to a delivery of goods outside of Germany or a service supplied onsite at client premises.

Participant data

With the registration you consent to sharing your personal data with the sponsors of the event.

Liabilities

The organizer reserves the right to postpone, cancel or alter the program of the event at short notice. In the event of a postponement all registrations will remain valid. Should the conference be cancelled, all fees paid will be reimbursed in full. In no event will the liability of the organizer exceed the sum paid.

Sound and video recordings

Select presentations and events at the conference will be recorded and later made available to other participants and/or 3rd parties. Upon registration, the attendee permits the publication of any recordings made.
